

Protection of personal data and Privacy Policy

Alexander David recognises the importance of protecting the privacy of all information provided by the visitors to our website and our clients and business associates.

We may require certain information which identifies you as an individual ("Personal Information"), in order to enable you to take advantage of particular services that we offer. Employees of Alexander David, may be given access to any Personal Information which we collect, and have been trained to maintain the confidentiality of such information, but their use shall be limited to the performance of their duties in relation to facilitating your use of the Website. We will only use such Personal Information for the purposes of providing information which you have requested.

Alexander David will take reasonable precautions to prevent the loss, misuse or alteration of your Personal Information. Contractors and agents who have access to your Personal Information are required to keep that information confidential, and are not permitted to use it for any purposes other than to enable you to use the Website or to deal with requests which you submit to us.

We do not share personal information with third parties without first obtaining your permission, except as necessary to carry out our business, your requests, or except (i) to the extent that we are required to do so by law, (ii) in connection with any legal proceedings (including prospective legal proceedings), or (iii) in order to establish, exercise or defend the legal rights of Alexander David.